Objectives

The Review of Global Management and Service Science, RGMSS, is an interdisciplinary academic journal that disseminates concepts, research outcomes, and practical experiences related to the interwoven field of global management and service science. This journal evolved from the ideas and intentions initiated at the 2010 Annual Conference of Global Management and Service Science held by the Department of Business Administration, the National Changhua University of Education and serves as a forum for the exchange of thinking and experience to inspire an in-depth look at theory and practice in such fields as management, engineering, psychology, sociology, and education, which may contribute to a pioneering outlook on global management and service science.

Review Process

A submitted manuscript is reviewed first by the Editor-in-Chief with respect to its suitability for themes related to Global Management and Service Science and then further reviewed to provide appropriate comments which would help the refinement of the manuscript before it is published in this journal.

Manuscript Submission

Whereas authors are welcome to submit manuscripts written either in Chinese or in English to the Review of Global Management and Service Science, they are encouraged to submit manuscripts written in English so that the ideas and information contained in the manuscripts can be shared by an international audience. A manuscript should be written within the preferred length range between 2500 and 7500 words according to the author guidelines, which are available at <http://www.ba.ncue.edu.tw>. Manuscripts should be submitted by email to the Editor-in-Chief or the Editor for consideration for publication in the Review of Global Management and Service Science. Authors of accepted papers should assign copyrights in their articles to the Department of Business Administration, the National Changhua University of Education so that the articles and the Journal can be disseminated as widely as possible in appropriate formats under full copyright protection.
